Fitness Class Has Openings

The Torrance Adult School is offering for the first time this year a course in physical fitness for men. The class meets at Torrance High School gym on Monday evenings from 7 to 9.

Bill Hoag, chairman of the boys' physical education department, Torrance High School, is the instructor.

Emphasis is placed on starting the enrollee on a program of physical activities that can be carried on at home. A test of each student's physical fitness, as measured by his pulse recovery rate after exercise and his ability to perform push-ups, sit-ups, pull-ups, and squat-jumps, is made when he first enters class. At the end of the semester a check will be made on his progress in this respect.

The value of various exercises and physical activities in helping to maintain fitness is discussed as the students are taught how to do them properly. Short discussions concerning weight control, heart disease, and current events in the field of physical fitness are held frequently. Aid is also given to individuals with specific physical problems.

Men over 18, interested in enrolling may register with the instructor at the class on Monday evenings at 7 o'clock.

HOW'S THE WEATHER? ... That's what George Goodson, Patty Eckhart, and Georgia May, students in Mrs. Maurine Pool's sixth and seventh grade class at Calle Mayor School, the finding out from Charles Barker, airlines weather forecaster. He appeared before the class to tell about his work and to show charts of various weather formations. The class is studying meteorology in science classes.

Another way Pacific Telephone plans ahead to meet emergencies

"Switchboards on wheels" are ready to get vital phone calls through

When sudden emergencies such as fires or floods happen, keeping vital phone calls going through is important to you and your family.

That's why we have complete telephone central offices built right into big truck trailers. We can send them wherever they're needed and hook them up to hundreds of telephone lines in a matter of hours. Operators can then use these "switchboards on wheels" to keep vital calls going — police, fire, hospital, civil defense and such.

These trailers are just one of the many ways we prepare for emergencies. For in every way we can, we work to keep phone service ready to use when it is needed most.
